Principal's Report

The sound of drills, circular saws, hammers and singing tradies are the background accompaniment as I write my column this week. The builders are making good progress and will hopefully be finished by 19 June. The mornings have been freezing this week so I encourage you to send your children to school with a warm jacket. They can also wear a beanie and gloves. Lots of layers of clothing are the key, as it takes a long time to heat up our big classroom space in the mornings.

School Uniform

EduThreads are having a sample school shirt printed with our new logo so that we can check that we are happy with the quality. They are putting together our uniform range plan, size guide and order forms to send out soon. You will be able to order directly through EduThreads at anytime, however we thought for the first order we can do a bulk order through school to save families the cost of shipping. School Council has agreed that a new school hat will be supplied for each student free of charge.

School Marketing

To support our new branding, we are developing a range of communication tools to promote our wonderful school to prospective families and the broader community. The revamped website is under construction and we are putting together an updated information pack. I would love to make a promotional video that features students, staff and parents sharing all the reasons they love our school. If you would be willing to be interviewed for the video, please let me know.

Peter Pan Production

The roles have been allocated and we will start rehearsing next week. Students with speaking roles will bring home a script to practise their lines. Those who do not want to be on stage will be doing backstage roles. As we cannot meet together to put on the performance until the COVID-19 restrictions are eased, we will be taking the time to prepare thoroughly.

Mrs H on Leave

Lea will be taking leave next week so Terry Nicholson will be replacing her from 17th—19th June. Terry has worked with the students before and they responded very well to him. Lea will be back on deck for the last week of Term 2.

Have a great week,
Sarah

Student of the Week

Grace has been working very hard on improving her writing and using her letter-sound relationships knowledge to spell unfamiliar words.
Superstar effort Grace!

This week students created a video to share with Auntie Lee their progress in Taungurung Language, and letting her know how much they miss her and that they can't wait for her return.
